CLAIMS

At HELIOS, each piece is meticulously inspected and is in its finest possible condition when it leaves our facilities. It is the customer's responsibility to examine the merchandise at delivery for any damage not noted on the carrier's delivery receipt.

RETURNS

HELIOS will not accept goods returned without prior permission. A Return Goods Authorization Number (RGA#) must be obtained from our sales/service department. This number must appear on all returned packages.

PRODUCT SPECIFICATIONS

HELIOS door and cabinet pulls are individually sand cast and finished by hand. Slight variations in the shape and finish do occur from each casting and are considered part of our custom hardware's individuality, adding character to each piece.

Cast brass and bronze have inherent characteristics which are susceptible to tarnish and discoloration. A protective clear coating is applied to each piece, but depending on frequency of use and climatic conditions, will wear off and show tarnish after a period of time. This natural oxidation is not considered a defect but rather a normal and attractive process of aging.

Tip: Routinely apply a high grade auto wax polish to help protect the finish.

LIABILITY

HELIOS is not responsible for injury or accidents incurred through faulty or incorrect installations. It is the buyer's responsibility to maintain the mounting system and ensure that hardware is installed in a workmanlike manner.
